

DOCTOR OF OTORHINOLARYNGOLOGY- HEAD & NECK SURGERY POSTGRADUATE PROGRAM

The program

The UKM Doctor of Otorhinolaryngology-Head and Neck Surgery (ORL-HNS) program first started in 1982. Back then, it was named Master of Surgery (Otorhinolaryngology-Head and Neck Surgery). The field of ORL-HNS includes sub specialty services for the ear, nose, throat, head and neck. This field continues to grow, adopting endoscopic surgery, allergy and interdepartmental collaboration of robotics and radiosurgery into this specialty. This is a 4-year full-time program which offers 3 main components including clinical, research and personal development. The training schedule include clinical training in ward, OR and clinics; regular CMEs and courses. The maximum period allowed is 7 years.

The trainers

With a maximum trainer-to-student ratio of 1:4, the full complement of program trainers consists adequate numbers of devoted lecturers. Each subspecialty of Otology, Rhinology, Laryngology, Head & Neck, as well as Paediatric ORL, has highly qualified lecturers with national and international recognition.

The fee

ORL-HNS Program	Registration	First semester	Subsequent semester
Local students	RM1 010	RM5 884	RM4 874
International students	RM1 410	RM24 822	RM24 824

The hospital

The candidates will be trained in a well-equipped university hospital located in Cheras, Kuala Lumpur (incampus for 4 years) or Health Ministry hospital (outcampus for first 2 years, then at main hospital). The ORL-HNS department has an Academia where teaching sessions, dissection courses and conferences either physically or virtually are conducted.
